Dear Admiral Turner:

You recently received a letter from Alexander Trowbridge, President of The Conference Board, inviting you to a meeting of New England business leaders September 28-30 at Chatham Bars Inn. I have attended several of these and consider it a unique opportunity to exchange ideas in an informal and relaxed atmosphere. Your presence here would be of distinct value to the conferees and should add a dimension which otherwise might be lacking. I do, of course, have a sympathetic understanding of your personal schedule problems but think that this is well worth a priority.

Kindest regards.

Sincerely
